MIGRANT CHILDREN'S

Continued from page one tendence was better and more effort was made to meet the needs of migrant children.

The study of colored migrants will continue about another month, before the Carson of Fish University, Nashville, Tenn. is conducting this part of the survey, according to Shirley E. Greene, Mecon, Ind., director of the study.

Mr. Greene was called to Indiana because of sickness in the family several weeks ago, leaving the groundwork for the survey. He returned for Sunday's meeting and will make further interviews with community leaders concerning the migrant problem.

The next meeting of the advisory committee will be held April 12th at 3:30 at Lake Shore Elementary School. At that time they will wind up the study.

Mr. Greene stated that he would return in the fall with a full analysis of the Survey and with recommendations, if any, to the state and county school boards who are cooperating in the Survey.

EVERGLADES FAIR SEEN

Freil's Broadway Shows will have a carnival which will include a dozen rides and shows which have been selected with particular appeal to ladies and the kids.

Saturday an army of workers will begin to install the exhibits, and other items necessary to setting up the Fair. Legionsaires are requested to make themselves available as the work necessary this year is more than double that of previous years.

N. B. Willis, Chairman of the Fair committee particularly requests all Committee members to be on hand Sunday and Monday as much as is practical. A call to 3148 will bring definite instructions to Legionnaires, or come to the Hall.

The Legion boys are going all-out this year, and are already planning a high school fair for next year. The public we are sure, will be well pleased at the offering for themselves and especially for our visitors.

FLUCTUATING CATTLE MKT.

(Continued from Page 1) may be made. Percentage-wise the difference between stockers and one grade higher grass-fed steers still affords a substantial profit.

The average stocker price for Nov. '52 was 13.27, and the average price of commercial slaughter steers last Monday was 19c. Four months on grass should produce a saleable commercial with an average to begin with.

Prices last week at Belle Glade gave medium stockers at 18.00 and average commercial 19.00.

Includes loans for other personal emergency, patriotic, and cultural activities for Gold Star wives and daughters; transportation expenses for Gold Star mothers and a wider to attend school for their own and husband.

It was announced recently by Mrs. Madeline Clausen, President of the Gold Star Wives Service Foundation, that during its first eighteen months of operation the Service Foundation expended a total of $134,999.75 for service and welfare and direct aid for widows, children and dependent parents of men who gave their lives in World War II and the Korean conflict.

Of the total expenditure, $89,982.07 was spent on the service fund work of the Foundation and the remaining $44,617.68 represents direct grants made on behalf of gold star families to summer camps, doctors, hospitals and educational institutions.

Left in the wake of war, Mrs. Clausen pointed out, "is the tragedy of the widows and children of those who did not return. Dream castles are shattered by the fearful words 'widow' and 'orphan' or 'died of wounds'."

"The distraught 'widows of war,' she continued, 'suddenly find themselves confronted with a need for information concerning benefits; for assistance with their claims or for legal advice. The widow who has had no training in the money-making world, finds herself suddenly faced with the pressing problem of supporting a family and continuing the children's education.'"

It was in December of 1945 a group of widows of World War II banded together in New York City and formed the Gold Star Wives of America, Inc. Through the years the organization has grown and now has members in all 48 states, Puerto Rico and Hawaii, and chapters in most of the principal cities.

In May of 1951 the Gold Star Wives Service Foundation was incorporated in the State of Illinois. Its primary purpose is to help the health and general welfare of children of American men who gave their lives in the service of their country, and the general welfare of other dependents of such servicemen."

During the summers of 1951 and 1952 hundreds of children of deceased servicemen spent vacations at summer camps in various sections of the country as guests of the Gold Star Wives Service Foundation. All sons and daughters of deceased servicemen between seven and sixteen years of age are eligible to take part in the camping program.

Dependent mothers and fathers of American war dead are eligible also for certain privileges. When consultation with a physician shows that some form of medical aid is required and the gold star parent has means through which to obtain medical care, the Gold Star Wives Service Foundation will make arrangements for assistance directly with the physician or hospital of the applicant.

Children of deceased servicemen desiring assistance in their education should write the office of the Service Foundation outlining their requests. Such letters should be accompanied by a letter from the parent at the time it came to the attention of the Service Foundation for a college education for all gold star children, special attention is given to particularly gifted children and to those in need of special training for specific psychological or physical reasons.

Eligibility does not include dependents of veterans who die of natural causes after discharge from service.

Too Late to Classify

By Russell Kay

I had a rather unusual experience recently when I was called on to appear as a character witness for a responsible business executive who had law enforcement officers had been kicking around for the better part of a week with apparently no reason other than the charge of misplaced authority.

I have heard frequent reports of shabby treatment received by out-of-state visitors who are of irresponsible constables and deputies in Florida but this was the first time I had come face to face with such high handed action.

My friend Lloyd J. Waverling, public relations representative of the Curtis Candy Company of Chicago, who brought the famed six-pony hitch to this state for appearances at the Orange Bowl, Florida State Fair, Florida Circus position and other events, drove to Sunshine Park Race Track at Oldsmar on Friday afternoon to see the races.

Walking about the grounds he saw a ticket lying on the grass near the clubhouse and picked it up. Looking at it he saw that it was a winning ticket. Thinking that someone had either lost it or thrown it away not realizing its value he took it to the cashier's window and turned it in. The man at the window asked him to wait a minute. Shortly thereafter he was called to him under arrest. They claimed he was trying to cash a "tarnished" ticket. He explained to him he had found and asked the man at the window if it was any good.

Without further questioning they hustled him to the office, where he was held and when he asked him his name, informed them that he was an employee of the Curtis Candy Company, and was a guest at the Thomas Jefferson Hotel in Tampa, the officers discounted everything he said. They turned him over to a deputy Sheriff's office who took him to the county jail where he was booked for "vagrancy and investigation."

He asked for permission to phone his company or get in touch with me. He was denied this right and thrown in a cell without further consideration.

He repeatedly asked for permission to phone his company for he was responsible for the pony team which was to appear in Orlando on Monday. He might just as well have been appealing to a flock of Egyptian geese.

His hearing was held at the Russian Secret Police. He remained in jail "incommunicado" from Friday afternoon until the morning when he was informed that the charges against him had been changed to "attempted grand larceny" and he was allowed to use the phone.

His hearing was set for Thursday morning. In the meantime, the representative of his company had been trying to locate him. The hotel management checked his room and found all his belongings just as he had left them. Hospitals and the city police were checked. Nobody, it seemed, had ever heard of the man. When his call came through, company representatives obtained a lawyer and went to the county jail. They called me, explaining what had happened. The poor chap after five days in the jug without a shave or a change of clothing was a pitiful sight and on the verge of a nervous breakdown.

Would I attend the hearing and appear as a character witness? I certainly would and did. The cashier and taking the ticket at the window identified Attorney Wm. C. Pierce as the man he THOUGHT cashed the ticket. When he looked at Waverling and "didn't think he had ever seen him before."

To make the face louder and louder, the man who had Waverling into custody identified himself as "Chief of Police" for the Sunshine Park Race Track were sure that by the judge it turned out that the man had never been commissioned with police powers by the state authorized law enforcement agency.

Asked why they had permitted the man to stay in jail for five days without a chance to call any one or without charges being brought against him, they said it was Friday and they could not get a warrant until Monday.

Justice of the Peace Hendrix disposed the case for complete lack of evidence of any crime.

It is telling this story because, as a citizen of Florida, it is an outrage and a disgrace. It certainly reflects no credit on Sunshine Park or the state.

The only heartening thing about the whole episode was the fact that Attorney Wm. C. Pierce refused a fee for his services. In lieu of a fee he asked

Congressman Rogers Seeks Views Of Constituents By Questionnaire

Our Congressman, Dwight Rogers, has followed the practice of asking his constituency's opinion on many current questions which he must vote in Washington, and we give below his 1952 questionnaires.

During the past three years this choir has toured over 30,000 miles to present concerts, and has presented many radio programs. Considered to be one of the five best non-professional male choirs in America and recently one critic says the Presbyterian College Choir is truly equivalent to the best formations in Europe.

The conductor of this 22 voice choir is Dr. Edouard Patte, a native of Switzerland, who received his training at several graduate schools in Europe. He studied under Ellen DeMole of the Geneva Conservatory of Music as well as Professor Baril of Geneva's St. Peter Cathedral.

FIRE VICTIMS GIVEN AID GENEROUSLY AND PROMPTLY THRU APPEAL

The American precedent for rising to a situation set so long ago by the "Minute Men of Concord" was demonstrated in Belle Glade last Tuesday. Though the ashes and debris of the Monday night fire, which burned out approximately 300 persons, were scarcely cold, meals were being served, clothing and other items were being gathered, sorted and given out to a large majority of those affected.

The American Red Cross and Salvation Army came in to assist and supplement the work in those phases which were beyond the scope of the local group. This could not have been accomplished had it not been for the spontaneous generosity of the people, the help from those who provided space and equipment, and those who gave of their time and energy. The radio call over WSWN, though the efforts, wishes to express its deep appreciation to all those who in any way helped to relieve the acute and immediate needs of the unfortunate ones.

LAKE HARBOR COMMUNITY METHODIST CHURCH

Recent improvements have added greatly to the church. Four Sunday school rooms have been built, (the wing to the right) also new cement steps, and installation of gas heaters in the church.

The railway car (left rear of church) was purchased last fall, shingled, redecorated inside, and dedicated by Bishop Roy Short, of Jacksonville, who commented, "This car has carried many people to their earthly destinations and it is most fitting that it now serve to carry passengers to their heavenly home."

The parsonage has also been decorated inside and out and newly furnished.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON—March 22

TITLE: "IN THE SHADOW OF THE CROSS"

SCRIPTURE: MATTHEW 26:13-26:30

I. THE AIM OF THE LESSON:

1. To study two experiences of worship and fellowship which took place on the eve of Christ's betrayal.
2. To recognize ways by which we may express love to Christ today.
3. To show the opportunities of worship and fellowship offered in the observance of the Lord's Supper.

II. CONCLUSIONS:

1. Mary's devotion gives us the example of sacrificial service which is pleasing to Christ vs. 6-13.
2. The institution of our Lord's Supper and its observance today serves as a constant reminder to us of the sacrificial love of Christ for all mankind, vs. 26-30.

THIS WEEK'S SERMONETTE THE VALUE OF PUBLIC WORSHIP

By REV. NICOLA DI STEFANO, D. D.

Lake Harbor Community Methodist Church

Without the instrumentality of public worship thousands who have a sufficient knowledge of the scriptures would remain insensible to their spiritual wants. Such is the nature hardens and stupor of the human heart that without the blessing of God on ministerial effort few would be aroused to a sense of their lost condition this side of a hopeless eternity. Of the thousands who have proved the divine power of the gospel to illuminate and quicken, to save and to bless, probably a large majority have received their first religious impressions while attending the public worship of God.

Now the means of grace connected with the observance of the Sabbath, are the stronghold of the Christian, to which he continually flies from the cares and business of life; and arms himself anew for his spiritual warfare. Every religion, however false, has had its priests, its temples and its altars; its days of peculiar sacredness for assembling its devotees, and to perform the rites of worship. But with no religion, except Christianity, do we find connected a system of public instruction, teaching man his origin and end; his nature, character and moral condition, with the obligation and duties arising out of his relations to the Creator; securing the practice of virtue and piety, by the most powerful motives which can be addressed to a rational nature; so various and so comprehensive, as to embrace every condition and interest of human life; making men wise and virtuous, and consequently happy. Such a system of instruction is the peculiar glory of Christianity.

MECHANICAL FAILURE CAUSES DEATH IN A CANE HAULING TRUCK

Warren Mathew Murphy, age 51, recently of Jacksonville, who has been living in the Fisher Trailer Camp here for the past three weeks, was killed in a peculiar highway accident at 4:10 pm Monday afternoon on SR No. 80 near Bean City.

According to FHP James Knox, who investigated, the fifth wheel of the semi-trailer which he was driving came loose causing the trailer to jack-knife into the ditch. The tractor landed on its side in the ditch with the trailer on top.

It took some 30 minutes to extricate the driver who was dead when taken from the cab and it is thought he probably was instantly killed.

He was operating a truck for Little & Holmes of Baton Rouge, La., and hauling sugar cane under contract to the Okelanta Sugar Mill from the C. A. Thomas cane field at Lake Harbor. At the time of the accident he was traveling west with an empty trailer.

Only known survivor is his wife Louise who was a patient at Belle Glade Memorial Hospital at the time of the accident recovering from an attempted suicide the last of the week when she shut herself in their trailer with gas stove turned on. Due to unforeseen circumstances, the Air Force Reserve Mobile Exhibit, scheduled to be on location at the Everglades Fair here next week, will not make the trip and be on display as previously publicized, Lt. Douglas A. Ferris, officer in charge of the unit announced this week.

The display was to have been presented in behalf of the 435th Troop Carrier Wing (Reserve), Miami International Airport.

which is the state's only organized reserve wing offering part-time training on a pay status to reservists.

CROSS COUNTRY CHATTER with Mac White

I was grabbing breakfast this morning when my wife, Mary, said, "What time do you have to check out, Mac?" "Seven o'clock," I told her. "General cargo. Some refrigerators, television sets, gas stoves and I don't know what else." Then I won't see you all week," Mary said. "That's right," I said. "This is Monday. Probably see you Friday night. This is a long haul—a little over a thousand miles to Key West and back, and you know we don't average much better than 25 miles an hour." You see, the law says we truck drivers can put in a maximum of only ten hours of driving. Then we've got to take eight hours of the law is right, of course. After ten solid hours of rolling a "kiddie buster" through tourist traffic, a fellow needs to relax. There's a lot of responsibility attached. These big trailers tractors you see rolling down the highways are worth pretty nearly $25,000 and there have been some occasions when I've hauled cargoes worth a quarter-of-a-million dollars. A fellow does a lot of thinking when he's sitting on top of a load like that, believe me. I ate my toast and eggs, drank a glass of milk and poured some coffee. You know, Mary, I said, "I'm an important guy. I'm hauling everything on this table—the eggs, the bread, the milk and the coffee—came by truck. People'd be in sorry shape if I didn't get this truck. And I'm a trucker. Of course you're important—the most important guy in the world to me," Mary said, straightening my necktie. "Now step on it, or you'll be scheduled. Phone me when you get back. You punch the clock, will you?" "I don't know why I should," I said, winking. "But I will."

indeed, high time that all conservationists joined forces in order to save as much as possible of the things which have made Florida a kind of Garden of Eden. Otherwise these very attractions which have made Florida such a delightful place to live will be all gone!

I am thinking of the two numerous subdivisions (terrazz houses) tossed close together like sardines in a can replacing beautiful woodland, of forest fires which kill trees and wild things alike and then ruin the soil, of polluted waters, of the "Poisoned" signs which remind you of Kaiser Bill's Imperial Germany with its "Verboten" signs, of the gradual disappearance of our birds, our fish, our game!

Remember the book, "Vanishing Eden"? Well, the Audubon Society stands for conservation and the good things which make Florida attractive and beautiful. Sportsmen and Audubon Society members actually have almost identical goals. Why not bring their efforts together?

RATTLESNAKE KILLS BULL—weeks ago I promised readers the story of Old Straight Horn, the $3,000 Brahman bull, killed by a rattlesnake while defending his cows from the deadly serpent. It's quite a story. And makes you have more respect for the rattlesnake, for if a snake bite will kill and all an enormous, mature bull, weighing 3,000 lbs.—what will it do for a poor human?

Anyhow, Old Straight Horn lived on the Paul B. Dickman Ranch, at Rusk. Paul Dickman is a close friend of mine. He often told me about this particular bull, — an animal raised from a calf and much valued. His name came from the fact that his horns were absolutely straight (at right angles) from his head. This was a most unusual characteristic for a Brahman. And Old Straight Horn was one of them with some peculiar, straight horns!

Naturally, the Dickmans were Old Straight Horn's lot. He was responsible for substantial increases in the herd each season. But the very straightness of his many calves, all of them with some peculiar, straight horns!

The cowboys who found Old Straight Horn lying dead in the pasture one day pieced the story together like this: The bull had attempted to gore a huge rattlesnake which threatened his herd. Had his horns stuck out forward a little more, instead of being at right angles to his head, he might have killed the snake. This story never would have been written. As it was, the snake struck him in the nose. One fan mark was in the nostril — the other (fang mark) so far up the bull's nose that the cow boys were amazed! "Must have been the biggest rattlesnake in Florida," Leyle C. Dickman, Paul's son, told me, adding: "We hunted that snake for weeks, but never found one big enough to think it was the rattler that killed our bull!"

Now, when the snake hit Old Straight Horn he fell over on his side, and died. It was the result of one of his long straight horns was buried its full length in the ground! The cowboys had to go get shovels and dig the horn out before the bull could be dragged away and buried!

That is the story of Old Straight Horn. If it puts a little more caution in the readers of this column, the telling will not have been in vain. The deadly power of a rattlesnake hardly can be over-emphasized. I do hope the Legislature puts a bounty on all dead rattlesnakes come April. The good rattlesnake is a dead rattlesnake. Remember that.

VETERANS INFORMATION

By Melvin T. Dixon
State Service Officer

VA Hospital at Lake City is being modernized. Disabled veterans of Florida are to have a new hospital building at Lake City. The Veterans Administration is now accepting bids for the modernization of the 376-bed general medical and surgical hospital at Lake City until May 5, 1953.

The construction of a 234-bed general medical and surgical hospital building which will replace 353 beds now located in four separate buildings will be included in the modernization project. The new construction capacity of the Lake City Hospital will be 359 beds. The 5 sub-standard buildings now in use, eventually will either be disposed of or razed, one of which dates back to 1894 when it was used as a colored dormitory.

The modernization project for which bids are being asked also will include the construction of one incinerator building; addition and alterations to boiler house and two connecting corridors. The boiler plant will also be converted from coal to oil. The buildings, in general, will have concrete foundations, exterior masonry walls with stone trim, reinforced concrete floors and built-up roofs.

The Florida Department of Veterans' Affairs as well as all other Veterans' Organizations of Florida, have for several years insisted upon and worked for a new VA Hospital at Lake City for the benefit of disabled veterans. The Florida Department of Veterans' Affairs is now accepting bids for the modernization of the 376-bed general medical and surgical hospital at Lake City until May 5, 1953.

U. S. FLAGS—BURIAL AND MEMORIAL. An American flag may be furnished to drape the casket of a veteran of any war or who served at least one enlistment during peacetime, or was discharged for disability incurred in line of duty; and discharge was under conditions other than dishonorable. Application should be made by relatives or undertakers to the nearest first-class post office in county seats, or at any field station of the VA. Such flags will be presented to the next-of-kin after burial ceremonies.

Flags may also be issued for memorial purposes in the case of any person, who had died in the military or naval service of the U. S. after May 27, 1941, and prior to twelve o'clock noon, Dec. 31, 1946, to the nearest relative of such person or to such other person as the VA deems most appropriate. Application is made on VA Form 11-2008. Reimbursement will not be made for flags privately purchased by relatives, friends, or other persons, nor will flags be issued to undertakers, organizations, or individuals to replace flags loaned or donated by them.

A remarried widow is not entitled to receive flag. A veteran who served in two periods of service, and received one honorable discharge and one dishonorable discharge is entitled to receive a flag for his casket.

When the remains of a Gold Star Hero are returned, casket will be draped with a flag, and although the next-of-kin may have been present with a memorial flag, this second flag will be presented at time of burial to the next-of-kin.

GIRL SCOUTS TO SELL COOKIES AT THE FAIR

Buy GIRL SCOUT cookies

All girl scouts of the area will be offering cookies for sale at the fair—if you don't like cookies buy some and give them to some kid; if you do like cookies buy an extra supply for the house.

This is one way the girls have of demonstrating the idea of helping one self. The girls must have some money for the summer camping and other activities, and this is one of the projects they have for making money.

One thing can be said for people who live in the past. They can do it cheaper.

The stronger sex is usually the weaker sex because of the strength of the weaker sex has over the stronger sex; or is it because of the weakness of the stronger sex for the weaker sex? Maybe two CAN live as cheaply as one—but not as quietly.

ing vegetables helps to keep down disease and insect pests. Our blackeye pea project has been developed to the stage where regular dusting or spraying is necessary in order that a satisfactory crop can be produced. The mixing of sprays and properly dusting them on the entire foliage area of the plants are important if these pests are to be kept down.

Dramatic Club News

On Wednesday, March 11, 1953, the principal, faculty, student body and visitors witnessed a most entertaining assembly program. The program was presented in the form of a radio play, quite dramatic which proved to be very informative. The contestants were chosen from all classes of the High School department with the exception of grade ten, because all members of this class are registered members of the Dramatic Club.

The club along with its sponsor, Miss Marion Orr, wishes to announce a forth presentation of two—one act plays which will take place in the very near future. We are expecting to have guest performers at this event and it promises to be a gala affair.
